Del Mar Fair Opens June 25 For 12 Days

DEL MAR — The Spanish-Mexican flavor that has been the Southern California Exposition's trademark over the years will be accentuated in recognition of San Diego's 200th Anniversary during this summer's 12-day Exposition, June 25-July 6.

"As everyone in this area knows, the Exposition has always had a strong flavor of our area's heritage — in our architecture, and through Don Diego symbol of our fair," R. J. O'Connor, Exposition manager said.

"We intend to implement that image this year, to honor the founding of San Diego, in a number of ways," he added.

The 1969 Exposition's main gate, he said, will feature a Mission facade, and a rotating "coin", 12-feet in diameter, which will bear the Exposition's Don Diego on one side, and the 200th insignia on the other.

"Our theme naturally will be the 200th Anniversary, and this will be carried out in many exhibits, primarily in Exhibit Hall. There, our own display will depict the raising of the cross on Presidio Hill — the historical act, July 16, 1769, that marked San Diego's founding," O'Connor explained.

The flower show will have a strong early-day flavor in the area fairgoers walk through entering or leaving the grounds.

Other 200th evidences on the fairgrounds will be: new Mission-style ticket booths, a Mexican cantina in the Plaza de Mexico, and a booth selling artificial 200th flowers.

Tax Override Passes; Dr. Todd Wins Post

The tax override passed by a little more than 100 votes yesterday in the La Mesa-Spring Valley Elementary school district — and a medical doctor was elected to the board.

Dr. John Todd, a La Mesa physician-surgeon, a newcomer to the board, ran second to Dr. Arne Christianson, a minister, an incumbent, who topped the most votes. Running third, and re-elected to the Spross is accused of murdering Robert "Blind Bob" Anderson of Chula Vista on Dec. 13. Anderson and his mother ran a news stand on Third avenue for 22 years.

The trial date was also changed from April 24 to June 16 by Superior Court Judge Robert Stanforth at the request of defense lawyer Louis Katz.

The case of the prosecution rests mainly on the finding of a bloody fingerprint on a cigar box at the Anderson home, a fingerprint the prosecution says is that of Spross.

This was revealed earlier at a hearing in which Katz attempted to get Judge Stanforth to set bail. Stanforth refused and Spross remains in jail.

Capital cases, that is, where the death penalty can be imposed are not normally bailable.

Even if the judge granted a motion to set aside the grand jury indictment, it would not free Spross of the charges which were first filed by the district attorney.

Worthington was a native of Marshville, Ore.

Traffic Signal Improvement For Broadway-Mass.

Improved traffic conditions were seen for the Broadway-Massachusetts intersection in Lemon Grove following the approval Monday by the Board of Supervisors of a traffic signal change there.

Supervisor Harry F. Scheide said the change would provide phased left turn signals for the left turn lanes on both streets (green arrows separately phased).

"This will increase the safety factor at the intersection and will increase its capacity by alleviating undue delay in the left turn lanes," he said.

Scheide added that the contractor would be the Perry Electric Company of Imperial Beach, at a bid price of $6,942. Work on this project will start in early May and be completed about mid-July.

Funds for this project will be from the San Diego County apportionment of the Highway Users' (gas) Tax.

Construction Issue Fails In Jamul School District

The $100,000 bond issue for school construction was defeated Tuesday in the Jamul-Las Flores school district when only 62 2/3 per cent of the voters said yes.

It required a 66 2/3 per cent majority. As a result, said Superintendent Eldon Meyer, double sessions will start in September.

An override election, by which the present 63 cents operational ceiling override is permitted, won by a 71 per cent majority.

Three seats on the Jamul-Las Flores board were open at Tuesday's election. These were won by Charles Jessup, incumbent, 217 votes; Don Freeman, a high school teacher, with 194 votes, and Jack Mobbs, self-employed, with 200 votes. Peter Dudley, a computer operator, failed to get a post with 164 votes.

Superintendent Meyer noted that it would have been necessary to transform 11 no votes to yeses to have won the bond election. In all, 284 people voted.

Meyer said that 419 students are occupying facilities suitable for a population of 270. "It is overcrowded this year and next year will be worse."

"We'll have to bring the issue back to the voters again," he said.

He said the homes in "Carriage Hills" will have three and four bedrooms, each with two baths.

Barclay said completion of the work on "Carriage Hills" is expected by Sept. 15.

The offices of Barclay, Hollander and Curci are at 110 West "C" st. in San Diego, Suite 1813.

L. G. Fire Department Responds to 1 Fire, 3 Rescue Calls in Week

The Lemon Grove Fire Department answered three rescue cases and one fire call for the week of April 7-14. Following are the rescue calls:

April 10 at 4:31 p.m., the crew went to Mallard and Federal blvd. Edwin Lowe, 6-years-old of 2211 Swan, San Diego, had been hit by a pickup truck as he was riding his bicycle down a hill. He was later taken to a hospital for a checkup.

April 12 at 4:30 a.m., the rescue crew responded to 2555 Bonita. Oxygen was administered to Marie Carson, 70, who had difficulty in breathing. She was later taken to a hospital.

April 13 — The rescue crew went to 2140 Bonita at 7:41 p.m. Oxygen was given to Ward T. Laub, 45, for an unknown seizure. He was later taken to hospital for a checkup.

The lone fire call of the week was on April 11. The call came into the station at 7:50 p.m. from Topper's Steak House at 8035 Broadway. The Fire Department report was that grease on the stove and a faulty burner was cause for the call. Dry chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze and the gas turned off. No damage reported.

New voters will be registered at schools during Open House events marking California Public Schools Week, Byron Netzel, District Superintendent, said this week. He said the registration effort is being conducted so that residents may express their wishes at the override election scheduled for June 17. There is no cost involved, he said.

Residents who have moved or did not vote in the last general election, or who have become of age, should register.

Deputy Registrars will be at the San Altos School on April 22, from 7 to 8 p.m., and at the Golden Avenue, Monterey Heights, Mount Vernon, and Vista La Mesa Schools on April 24, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Parents who are attending Open House may wish to take advantage of this service. A Registrar is also at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce at their new location, 3415 Imperial ave., each week day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The DIMMER VIEW by Max Goodwin

Tidal Wave Danger Nil

With all the advance notices regarding the earthquake that was to have slid half of California into the Pacific, an air of disappointment seemed to pervade the attitude of many members of the news media last week.

Whether disappointment came because a big story went up in smoke or because the quake, should it have occurred, would have taken into the sea, half of the kooks who make up a rather large segment of California's population, is questionable.

And whether newsmen were satisfied with the failure of the quake to come off, as advertised, is beside the point. A bigger point is that thousands of Californians were deeply disturbed by the quake threat and little was done to relieve their fear.

Less jittery persons realize that earthquakes cannot be forecast. Even if they could be, there would be no way in which the intensity of the quake could be foretold. Quakes, when they do come, often produce "tidal" waves and these often are extremely damaging.

The Unified Civil Defense and Disaster Organization of San Diego County made studies of the effects of seismic sea waves (earthquake after-waves) and produced a report that took the mystery out of these phenomena.

One of the important agreements in the studies is that "seismic sea waves hold little potential for catastrophic damage in harbors of San Diego County."

Tidal waves are seismic waves, the study said.

Seismic sea wave energy travels at 300-400 miles an hour. At sea they are 2-3 feet in height. They travel around the world with decreasing amplitude. It takes a seismic shock of about 7.5 on the Richter Scale to generate appreciable wave action. The largest magnitude ever observed was 8.5 — the 1960 Chilean earthquake. There was one in the Aleutians in 1946 which reached 7.5 in magnitude. Yet, neither of these earthquakes caused loss of life along the coastline or in the harbors of San Diego County. Damage from harbor turbulence was limited to moored boats and floating piers, the report says.

The report firmly states that anything less than 7.5 on the Richter Scale may be disregarded as dangerous.

Other determinations coming from the study include the bald statement that earthquakes originating in either Japan-Alaska area, or the west coast of South America, would cause no catastrophic damage in harbors in San Diego County.

Seismic waves at Hilo, Hawaii, and at Crescent City, California, do not have the same effect on the Southern California coastline because of the shape and profile of the ocean floor here. Some of the sea wave energy moving toward the San Diego coastline is reflected back to sea by the continental shelf off the San Diego coast. The shelf also absorbs some of the wave energy. Thus the waves "decay" offshore and are not high enough to do great damage.

The report concludes on this reassuring note: "You can discount completely the idea of a 'huge' wave or wall of water sweeping across the beach areas and lowlands of San Diego County; and, any harbor surging caused by a seismic wave would range from 'minor' to 'moderate' and would be similar to the less noticeable surging of a regular tide — but the seismic wave occurs over a shorter period of time but with more surging."

In Near East Talks

Representatives Seek A 'Common' Bible

BEIRUT, LEBANON — The possibility of a common Bible for all Christians who live in many of the "Bible lands" was advanced recently at an inter-religious conference here.

Representatives of Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox Churches of the Near East gave tentative approval for work to begin on one common and up-to-date translation of the Bible into Arabic.

Plans, produced under the leadership of the United Bible Societies, are subject to final approval of the Churches involved.

A number of different translations of the Bible into Arabic are currently in use (by the various Churches), with the most ancient dating from the Sixth Century A.D.

All these translations need updating as a result of the discovery of historic manuscripts such as the Dead Sea Scrolls, and because of developments in the study of the ancient languages of Biblical times.

Furthermore, Arabic itself has changed and there is need for a version which follows contemporary translation principles and is understandable by today's reader.

'Pillars Of Freedom' Speech Hits Impersonal World, Stresses Love

By MARY BONNER

"The message I give to young people today is to start loving themselves," declared Judge Phillip B. Gilliam, a juvenile problems specialist, as he spoke at the ninth annual "Pillars of Freedom" luncheon sponsored by the Kiwanis Club held at the Community Concourse on April 1.

The theme for the speech which he delivered in front of a crowd of about 11,000 was, "The Law and Personal Responsibility."

Judge Gilliam, who has long been recognized as one of the nation's leading authorities on the prevention of juvenile delinquency said, "The leading cause of juvenile delinquency is lack of love in the family because the parents just don't seem to want to bother with the kid, resulting in the child not liking himself."

He said that most of the kids he comes in contact with, that have been in some kind of trouble, just "don't like themselves." He remarked that when a person likes himself, he likes others, too.

He commented about teenage love saying that most girls that have come into his court in the past 33 years have gotten themselves into trouble because of a broken heart — "they didn't feel loved."

He mentioned that boys can usually take this kind of loss better than girls because girls tend to center their lives around love.

In his speech, Judge Gilliam said that the world is getting too impersonal because no one wants to get involved. He said that people's lack of involvement is getting so bad that even police officers in some cities ignore crime, and that crime is increasing at a rate nine times faster than the population.

After the luncheon the judge held a press conference for the benefit of the student journalists who attended.

At the beginning of the conference, he was presented with the Kiwanis Club's "San Diego's 200th anniversary medalion."

To the students he talked of the rising drug problem. "Five years ago high school and college drug usage was unheard of," he said, "and now it is the main problem found in schools."

When asked why he thought the problem existed so much today, he said "The teenagers' normal inquisitive nature. They want to experiment with new ideas." He said that most kids should be more idealistic. His idea was stressed more

Science Fair Cites 9 Youths In Local Area

By Nila Repard
Nine local youths gained recognition for their scientific abilities at the 15th Annual Greater San Diego Science

Fair, which opened April 9. High school and junior high school students from throughout San Diego and Imperial counties participated in the Fair, creating a total number of 447 exhibits in 11 categories. These exhibits, displayed in Balboa Park's Federal Building, were chosen from over 3,500 entries from 64 schools.

Winners were announced at an hour-and-a-half awards presentation, followed by an address by Dr. Ralph J. Christenson, chairman of the Science Fair's Board of Governors.

Area winners in the junior division included Helix High ninth graders Philip Pottinger and Rahn Prince, both placed 2nd in the field of Physics; and Joyce Davidson, 7th grader at La Mesa Jr. High, who took 3rd, in Physics.

Spring Valley Jr. High boasted six award winners. They are: Steven Koike (7), 3rd in Botany; Carole Webster (7), 2nd in Medical Science; Jo Merino (7), 2nd in Physics; Marc Bailey (7), 3rd in Physics; and Thomas Webster (8), 1st in Physics. Thomas also received 2nd runnerup, Sweepstakes, in the junior division.

George Gross, a senior at Monte Vista High, captured a 3rd place in Microbiology, senior division.

The Fair — termed "the finest fair of its kind in the U.S." — is sponsored by The San Diego Union and Evening Tribune in cooperation with business firms, industry, and education.

Public Benefits Too

Scout Fair Will Help Boys Buy Equipment

The annual Scout Fair, scheduled for May 10 at Del Mar Fair Grounds, presents an opportunity for many people, says the San Diego County Scout Headquarters.

Units benefit by participating which in turn benefits the program. Scouting is shown to the public, units earn money for equipment, and Scouts earn Scout Bucks which they can use to purchase Scout equipment or use towards summer camp fees.

Each Scout Unit can earn up to 50 cents on each $1 ticket sold; units can thus earn enough money to finance their operation for the whole year.

Scouts receive one Scout Buck for every five tickets sold. Each Scout Buck is worth $1 cash at Scout Distributors listed on the back of the Scout Buck.

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers may apply Scout Bucks to the Balboa Summer Program. Explorers can use Scout Bucks toward the John Muir Trek.

Aiding the sale of tickets is a county-wide publicity program which includes T.V., newspapers, radio, personal appearances, speakers, 5000 bumper stickers, and 2000 window posters.

Cancer Society Has Double Goal In Area Crusade

The American Cancer Society's Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Unit Crusaders are aiming at a double faced target for its 1969 Cancer Crusade to be held in April.

The Cancer Crusade is an educational as well as fund raising drive. One face of the Crusader's target is to deliver facts about cancer to every home in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area.

The other face is to give residents an opportunity to help this community unit reach the goal it has set. The goal in Lemon Grove is $1800 and the goal in Spring Valley is $1300 for its 1969 Cancer Crusade.

The 1969 Cancer Crusade is headed this year by Gerry Mulder in Lemon Grove and Mrs. Eleanor McJunkins in Spring Valley. They are hopeful that both targets will be hit.

The Crusade Slogan will be, "Help yourself with a check-up. And others with a check."

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Are there any Spanish songs which have been translated into English? If so, do they always translate them word for word from Spanish to English?

Many popular songs are "translated" from Spanish to English and vice versa. However, the "translations" are more frequently adaptations rather than translations. It is most difficult for a lyric writer to convert Spanish to English on a word for word basis due to the great variation between the sounds and word stresses from one language to the other.

A popular song from the 40's was "Solamente Una Vez." In Spanish this means "Only One Time." When the English version of the same song was released it was entitled "You Belong To My Heart."

Yet the title of a more recent popular song, "More," was translated directly into Spanish as "Mas." The English lyrics within the song are entirely different than those in Spanish.

Sometimes the titles of songs are not changed. For example "La Cucuracha" is the preferred title in Spanish and English for the famous revolutionary song that would be translated, "The Cockroach." Also, the title "Rancho Grande" is infrequently referred to as "The Large Ranch."

Today's practice phrases contain parts of the lyrics from an old Spanish song. See if you can guess which one. You may practice saying the words for it with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

Highway Change Meeting Set For Friday

The San Diego County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing in Room 310, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, Friday at 9:30 a.m. to consider proposed changes to the Circulation Element of the San Diego County General Plan.

The plan, which supersedes the General Plan of Major Highways, shows the general location of existing and future major roads within the County and classifies them according to their potential traffic-carrying capacities.

The San Diego County Planning Department and the County Engineer in cooperation with the incorporated cities and the State Division of Highways, through the Comprehensive Planning Organization, are recommending 76 changes to the Plan.

The proposed changes include deletions, additions, relocations and reclassifications of routes which are the result of detailed route studies, adoption of General Plans by cities and freeway agreements with the State Division of Highways.

The purpose of the hearing is to provide the opportunity for any interested person to appear and be heard on the proposed changes.

Following the hearing the Planning Commission will make a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors. A similar hearing will be held by the Board before an amended Plan is adopted.

Maps showing the proposed changes and other related material are on file in the office of the San Diego County Planning Department, Room 207 County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, California, and are available for public inspection.

Bank Earnings Up Ten Per Cent

Southern California First National Corporation, reported record first quarter net operating earnings of $1,031,376 for the period ended March 31, a 10 percent increase over bank earnings of $938,660 for the corresponding period of 1968.

Per share earnings remained unchanged at 37 cents. The number of shares outstanding at the end of the first quarter of 1969 stood at 2,824,998, up from an equivalent 2,528,788 one year earlier.

The increased number of shares, resulted principally from the merger of Bellflower National Bank on June 6, and the merger of Bank of La Jolla on November 15.

SCFSTN became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the holding company on February 28, 1969, following shareholder approval of the plan and a two-for-one exchange of stock.

C. C. Blakemore, bank's holding company president, said that based on first quarter results, the outlook for the year appears excellent.

Local Man Leader On 'Hard-Core' Jobs

A local auto dealer had an integral part in a major new program for training automobile mechanics in the Metropolitan San Diego area.

The program, known as the S.D. Automotive Consortium, will provide training for more than 300 mechanics from the ranks of the hard-core unemployed, according to R. E. Townsend, president of the Consortium.

The local man is Pat Grace, owner of Pat Grace Ford, at 7220 Broadway, Lemon Grove. He spent two months in negotiating the contract with the National Alliance of Businessmen and the Department of Labor in San Francisco as chairman of the negotiating committee.

He said that the first group of employees at his place would be hired in about 30 days.

The contract was entered into by a newly-formed non-profit corporation of auto dealers who will provide up to 1,800 hours of "on-the-job" training.

W. J. Dawsey, of La Mesa, local N.A.B. manager for Job Procurement, was the "catalyst" in organizing the Consortium. Dawsey, on loan from General Dynamics, Co., vail, to NAB for a year, called it the first program of its kind in the U. S. and probably the pilot for 125 other cities.

Man Points Handgun

At Auto Passengers

Passengers in a moving car were threatened by a gunman last week as their car turned a corner at 69th and Hoffman in Lemon Grove.

The car was being driven by the daughter of Mrs. Roseletta Relaford of San Diego who was one of two passengers.

When the car turned the corner the headlights revealed a man who turned and faced the passengers displaying a firearm by "twirling" it on his finger and then pointing it at the passengers, a sheriff's deputy's report states.

The vehicle left the area but a description of the suspect was reported to sheriff's deputies.

Witnesses' description of the suspect included these details — a white male, in early twenties or late teens, bowlegged, tall and slim, and possibly with light, blond hair.

A second field is now being considered at the same address so the teams may play more

HELIX TENNIS By TOM WARREN

Experience seems to be the key to this year's Highlander tennis team.

The Highlanders, after losing only three of the ten members of last year's varsity, should be "a lot stronger and deeper than last year's squad," according to Helix tennis coach Ross Walker.

"I would say it should be under us, Mt. Miguel, and Monte Vista for second place," said the coach. "I doubt if anybody will be able to knock off Grossmont," he continued. "They have almost their entire CIF championship team back from last year, and that was one of the best teams the county ever produced."

The Scot netmen should be led this year by returnees Jim Sable, Keith Sinclair, Mark Mittler, and Rick Bissell. Adding to their efforts should be Dave Shaw, Craig Galbraith, and Mike Trout, all up from last year's second place JV squad.

"We're still trying to find a good doubles team," said Walker, "the team of Sinclair and Shaw seems to be our best combination. They've had the most experience together."

The team resumed play following the Easter holidays when they met Hoover April 7.

"I would rank them about second if they were playing in our league," said Coach Walker. "They beat Mt. Miguel, and they have two or three good boys coming back, so they should be pretty tough," he said.

Sports Show Set

Area sportsmen will view recreational equipment from all over the United States during the second annual San Diego Boat, Sports & Travel Show which returns to the San Diego International Sports Arena, April 30 through May 4.

The five day show, returning for a second successful time, attracted near capacity crowds last year. The show, which is expected to feature sports equipment carrying a retail value of nearly $2 million, opens at 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 30 and continues daily from 12 to 10:30 p.m. through Sunday.

SOFTBALLERS — Spring Valley's Darwin Tolzin shows grip that is bringing him — and the NavSta softball team — fame in the service circuit.

Spring Valley Pitcher Is Class of NavSta 9

A Spring Valley sailor is attracting attention in the sports world as a softball pitcher.

Aerographers Mate First Class Darwin Tolzin, who lives with his family at 8739 St. George st., Spring Valley, has become top pitcher for North Island's Naval Air Station's vaunted softball team — the Packers. His love for the sport was related the other day when he reviewed his baseball background — from the time he started throwing on a farm in South Dakota to the day, recently, when he pitched in North Island's Invitational tournament.

The Packers won the tournament. Tolzin pitched and won three of the five games the team played.

Tolzin's first introduction to the diamond came as a four-year letterman in high school as a pitcher, and he described a rather unique system of gaining control in his early years.

His dad used to be a catcher, and when he was around to play catch with, used to hold his glove as a target for Darwin.

Unless Darwin either hit the glove or at least made his dad protect himself by throwing in line with him, it turned out to be the "kid" running for the ball. His dad would make no effort to catch anything that was a "ball" or that wouldn't hit him.

"After awhile I got tired of running after pitches," the lanky hurler said. "It really made me concentrate on where I was throwing."

When he was graduated from junior high school there were five students in all eight grades — and they belonged to two families.

"Of course there was only one teacher," he remarked. "Since then they have consolidated, and now my sister who is in fifth grade attends a grade school with nine students."

He later attended Lake Preston High School where he was a four-year letterman in baseball and basketball, and at the same time lettered two years in track and football.

His class of 28 students contained 23 girls. The five senior boys were the starting team in basketball.

Tolzin left the rural area to join the Navy in January, 1960. After attending "boot camp" and "A" school, he went to Kodiak, Alaska, where he first began throwing softballs as a pitcher.

He pitched in the intramural league and was selected to the station's all-star team which finished second in the Alaska State Tournament.

Although he was a baseball pitcher, he had little trouble conforming to the underhanded way of softball.

But he had trouble getting in a full season of ball since then, until he came to North Island in the fall of 1967. Last year he was the mainstay of the pitching staff and led the team to the Navy League title. The 107-game schedule didn't daunt his enthusiasm over the summer, for along with a number of Packer players, he played with San Diego Trust and Savings in the winter league in National City. During the NavSta season he pitched 54 games, winning 47.

Assigned to the Fleet Weather Facility here, his military duties have mainly dealt with oceanography. This entails plotting the thermal structure of the ocean and helping the squadrons find submarines by giving them sonar ranges. In addition, he is also a flight forecaster.

When his Navy days are over, Darwin hopes to go into the data processing field, and of course, continue softball. With his busy schedule a person might wonder what his family gets to see of him during the evenings. Well, his wife, Jean, probably had a pretty good indication of things to come. On their first date in early high school, it was a baseball doubleheader that was the attraction for entertainment.

Little has changed since then as Mrs. Tolzin is the Packer's most loyal fan, while Jeff, their six-year-old son, a Kempton school student, is constantly in the bullpen throwing one of the team's extra softballs. Their daughter, Janeen, 4, tags along with assuring interest.

Almost any day of the year, the hard-throwing right-hander can be seen calmly standing on the mound waiting to throw the first pitch. In the stands will be his wife and two children, and far away in Hotland, South Dakota (pop. 45) are three sisters and two brothers plus the elder Tolzins who wish they could be here to watch him pitch. They can rest assured that opposing hitters also wish that Darwin Tolzin was "back on the farm."

LA MESA RE-DEVELOPS — Demolition of older buildings in La Mesa is harbinger of up-coming re-development of downtown La Mesa by a group of local businessmen. The demolition concerns two buildings adjacent to the La Mesa Furniture Co. in the 8300 block of La Mesa Blvd. In a domino move, the furniture firm acquired the two properties on which will be built additional display rooms and a warehouse. The firm's prior warehouse and display rooms are being demolished to make way for re-development that will bring the first high-rise commercial building to La Mesa. To go in the transition is a three-block triangle formed by Spring, Allison and Orange streets. Kentucky Roast Beef, a new food center, is the first new business in the development on the property which was once the location of the old City Hall and the old Helix Irrigation District building. They, too, were recently demolished. To come later in the year is the 6-story S. Cal. 1st. National Bank building with a construction price tag of $2,350,000 on it.

Boys' and Girls' State Teaches How Government Works

Lemon Grove Girl To Represent Helix HS In American Legion-Sponsored Program

Helix High School juniors Christine De Gaetano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale De Gaetano of 2752 New Jersey, Lemon Grove, and Doug Kroll have been chosen to represent their school at the American Legion's annual Boys' and Girls' State this summer.

Boys' and Girls' State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and is attended by one representative from each high school in California.

Girls' State will be held June 23 to July 1 at The University of California Davis Campus. Boys' State will be held June 21 to June 28 at the California State Fair Grounds in Sacramento.

The function of Boys' and Girls' State is to give young American men and women a first-hand opportunity to become acquainted with our government and to prepare them for jobs and future responsibilities.

Students will participate in a mock type of government divided into two major political groups, the Whigs and the Tories.

Each representative will have an opportunity to run for local, county or state offices. The offices range from councilman to governor.

The two representatives have chosen by Helix teacher recommendations, counselor evaluation, scholastic achievement, and leadership potential exhibited by the student while attending Helix.

Smut Peddling Designed To Evade Authorities

WASHINGTON — One of the smut peddlers bombarding the San Diego area with obscene materials takes orders in one state, does his printing in a second and issues mailings from a third, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, reported Wednesday.

"The fact that this company's operations are so dispersed obviously makes it tougher for state or local authorities to crack down — and points out the need for new federal legislation to curb the shameless trafficking in pornography," the San Diego Congressman said.

Van Deerlin sent his administrative assistant, Sieg Smith, to New York last week to make an on-site investigation of some of the most notorious pornography firms, and of the steps local officials can take to control them.

Smith met in New York with representatives of the U. S. Attorney's office, the District Attorney's staff and the Postal Inspection Service. He also traced the operations of the M.D. Press, Cybertype, Steinar Press and others that have been sending unsolicited lewd advertisements to San Diego area postal patrons.

Smith found that M.D. Press is a much wider ranging organization than its Brooklyn, N.Y., address would indicate. The New York office is used only for taking orders, while the actual printing is done in Massachusetts and the ads and other materials are distributed by a commercial mailing firm in New Jersey.

And, Smith noted, the M.D. Press owner boasts of having

San Miguel PTA Installs President At Luncheon Meeting

NEW PTA PRESIDENT—Mrs. Frank Tirpak of 2535 Corona st., Lemon Grove was installed president of the San Miguel PTA for the coming school year.

The Parkers are now in good health. Two of the youngsters were injured when the mother tossed them out of a window of the blazing home at 3530 Main st. in Lemon Grove late last month. All the family belongings went up in flames.

Mrs. Parker was burned about the head but she has recovered.

Many generous residents gave furniture, appliances and clothing to the family of eight including six children under eight years of age.

Dr. Treganza, who headed the project for the Lemon Grove Soroptimist club, turned in a list of cash contributors.

The list includes: Mrs. Helen Van Zele, $25; Joan Van Zele, $50; Marjorie Jackson, $5; Mary Esther Ray, $25; Mrs. Sibley, $5; Mrs. C. Hall, $10; Len Farness, $25; the Larry Hunters, $15, and the L.G. Soroptimists, $15.

Parker is back to work as an assistant carpet layer.

Stricter Land Use Control Asked By Two Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A battle may be shaping up over stricter county land use controls, especially in the matter of lot splits.

Under present rules, a land owner may split his property into four parcels with a minimum of controls.

Supervisors Harry Scheidle and Jack Walsh have suggested that no property be split without the filing of a subdivision map.

On Monday, the board decided that this and other suggested changes should be the subject of a conference at a later unspecified date.

The development of many sections of the county has been in a patchwork pattern because of this lack of control which does not provide for the extension of roads and other services to other properties.

The lot split ordinance was adopted in 1960 and 1961 in a series of hard fought moves. While the ordinance has few controls, it at least stopped the wide open splitting of land into four parcels, then changing ownership and resplitting, the so-called four by four subdivision.

The letter from the new supervisors says, "In 1968, 3,053 new lots were approved by San Diego County by the lot split process.

"It is apparent that land owners who are dividing their property by the lot split process are not fully meeting their community responsibilities.

"The ordinance should be amended to assure equal treatment for all property owners, and to assure that necessary neighborhood improvements will be paid for by the benefiting property owners and not by the general public at large."

Enforcing subdivision improvements in this area where owners are going to point out that others were allowed to develop without improvements is going to be difficult if the ordinance change succeeds.

Senator Introduces Bill To Aim Federal Road-Building Funds Through Local Cities, Counties

Sacramento — A bill that will enable California to take advantage of federal funds available to improve traffic operations on an urban network of city streets, county roads, and State highways was introduced last week by Senator Alan S. Short, Chairman, Senate Transportation Committee.

The bill is the result of a cooperative effort between officials of the State Department of Public Works, representatives of the League of California Cities, and the County Supervisors Association. An important feature of the bill is that cities and counties will play an important role in the decision for distribution of the money after it has been received from the federal government and appropriated by the California Highway Commission.

According to a spokesman of the State Department of Public Works, this is a major step in the program of close cooperation between cities, counties, and the State in major decisions affecting streets, roads, and highways.

According to the federal act that established the Urban Traffic Operations Program to Improve Capacity and Safety (TOPICS) thoroughfares in urban communities can be improved on a matching fund basis. Approximately 71 percent of the monies required for a project would come from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the remainder from the local government.

A total of $200 million in federal funds will be disbursed during fiscal year 1969-70 that begins on July 1. Under the Bureau's formula, California would receive approximately $21,649,000 of that amount.

Urban population is a key factor in the federal formula with particular attention paid to the number of areas — which do not have to be incorporated as cities — with more than 5,000 residents.

Senator Short's bill provides for coordination between the State Department of Public Works, the counties and cities through a TOPICS Advisory Committee comprised of 10 members appointed by the Governor.

Four members would be county representatives recommended by the County Supervisors Association and six would be city representatives recommended by the League of California Cities.

The committee would make recommendations regarding (1) distribution of federal monies, (2) which thoroughfares should be included, (3) project priorities, (4) other matters related to the program.

Members would serve four-year terms. At least two of the county representatives and three of the cities group would be engineers.

The bill also provides that the Department of Public Works with the approval of the committee would designate within each participating urban area a coordinating agent. That responsibility could be assigned to a city, county, or existing cooperative transportation planning organization, but in each case the advice of local city councils and boards of supervisors would be sought prior to assignment.

Typical modifications that could be financed through TOPICS include but are not limited to:

Channelization of intersections; widening of traffic lanes; addition of lanes at intersections where traffic signals are installed; construction of pedestrian crossings at complex intersections.

Also, automation of traffic signals to make them more responsive to actual conditions; construction of separate lanes in transit loading zones; construction of shelters and platforms for transit passengers; improved lighting.

Also modifications to restrict curb parking; monitoring systems to determine needs and types of modifications at particular sites; and short reconstruction projects to eliminate jogs from an otherwise continuous thoroughfare.
